Gifts That Keep on Giving: Scanned Photos, Negatives and Slides Brighten the Holidays and Preserve Family Memories Forever

Make Gift Giving a Breeze This Holiday Season by Scanning Memorable Images to Share with Family and Friends

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., (August 14, 2007) – With the holidays fast approaching, many are already racking their brains and hitting the sales in search of the perfect gifts for friends and family. Long lines, stressed-out salespeople and traffic jams are a few reasons people are getting started earlier this year. While some may get a head start, they still might not know what to get for the woman who has everything, the workaholic husband, Grandma or Uncle Bob. Lucky for them, there's ScanCafe.

ScanCafe makes holiday gift-giving a breeze by scanning photos, negatives and slides to create CDs and DVDs of everyone's favorite photos. The process is simple: ScanCafe customers can package up their photographs, negatives and slides and send them off to ScanCafe where photo technicians will manually scan and retouch all of their photos and post them in a secure online library for customers to view. There's no need to pre-sort images, since ScanCafe allows customers to pay only for the images they wish to keep (with a minimum fifty percent commitment). After selecting the photos they'd like to keep, customers are sent back all of their original photos along with a CD or DVD of their digital images – a perfect holiday gift for anyone in the family!

“The holidays are stressful enough without having to come up with original gift ideas for everyone on your list,” said Sam Allen, CEO of ScanCafe. “Scanning photos, negatives and slides is a great way to preserve your family images forever, while at the same time making a memorable holiday gift for everyone.”

At an affordable price of only $0.19 per negative, ScanCafe offers an ideal gift for the time-strapped, budget-conscious gift-giver. Touch ups like color correction, cropping and dust and stain removal are included as part of ScanCafe's basic packages. Additional services like black and white negative and slide scanning and more extensive restoration for severely damaged photos are also available at very affordable rates.

To get started scanning your photos, negatives or slides, or for more information about ScanCafe, please visit www.ScanCafe.com. ScanCafe's turnaround time for scanning images is four to six weeks, so plan ahead for the holidays!
