"Obama, Be Mine"...ScanCafe Offers President Obama as Your Valentine

Burlingame, CA, February 02, 2009—Much of the nation seems to be in love with its new president, who has enjoyed the highest incoming approval ratings since JFK. And now, for Americans who really are in love, ScanCafe, the premier online photo scanning and restoration service, is giving them the chance to make President Obama their Valentine.

Through Feb. 6, entrants who submit a photo to ScanCafe's "Obama Valentine" contest will receive a special treat. Simply send ScanCafe an old photo of yourself with a friend, flame or ex, and ScanCafe will use its award-winning digital photo restoration skills to digitally swap that someone out for a brand new Valentine -- President Obama. The top three final images will win a $100 Valentine's Day dinner.

The Obama Valentine is made possible by ScanCafe's leading capabilities in digital photo restoration and repair. Every day at ScanCafe, customers send in their old photos, slides and negatives for high-resolution scanning. Then, ScanCafe's highly trained technicians manually repair the images for the effects of time, correcting damage from fading, scratches and color shift. They can even repair rips, tears and water damage.

"Our business is about preserving memories," explained Sam Allen, CEO of ScanCafe. "With the economy the way it is, we thought everyone could do with a bit of whimsy. So we're combining fun with function by giving everyone the chance at a one-of-a-kind Valentine, at the same time demonstrating the expert skill of our craftsmen here at ScanCafe. Not only can we repair old keepsakes, we can make new ones."

Submissions must be a high-resolution photo (at least 1 MB) of you, pictured alone or with someone else, and received by Feb. 6. There is no charge, though supplies are limited. Entries will be featured publicly throughout the contest, and the top three images will receive $100, just in time for a Valentine's Day dinner.
